ROME, Sept. 28.—There has been a new and most serious disagreement between King Humbert and the Vatican. THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

THE MUD-SLINGERS OF THE HOUSE
ENLIVEN THE SESSION.

Mr. Morse of Massachusetts and Mr. Fithian of Illinois Question the Veracity of Each Other.

"Firebrand" Johnson of Indiana Provokes Laughter and Hisses by an Allusion to the Breckinridge Scandal.

Senator Peffer, in a Long and Rambling Speech, Informs His Colleagues That the President's Latest Statement of His Financial Views is Unsatisfactory—Rumors of a Dicker Between the High Tariff Men and the Silverites.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The lie was passed at the opening of the session of the house this morning, between Mr. Morse of Massachusetts and Mr. Fithian of Illinois. The altercation was the outgrowth of Mr. Morse's filibustering course yesterday.

Mr. Morse, in a five-minute speech this morning, tried to justify his conduct during the course of which he charged Mr. Fithian with being solely responsible for the refusal of the house to permit him to print in the Record some newspaper extracts attacking Commissioner Lochner.

Mr. Fithian, rising to reply, said that inasmuch as Mr. Morse had seen fit to criticize him, he desired to call the attention of the house to a rather dubious proposition made by Mr. Morse to him. He said that Mr. Morse, when he (Mr. Fithian) objected to his leave to print, came to him with honeyed words and informed him that he was a member of the committee on public buildings and grounds, and intimated that if he (Fithian) had a public building bill he (Morse) might be able to help him in his way clear to withdrawal of his objection.

"That is absolutely false!" shouted Mr. Morse, staking in a warlike manner towards Mr. Fithian.

"If the gentleman from Massachusetts denies the statement, I have proof to adduce that will satisfy any member of the house. My colleague (Mr. Goldziefer) heard the conversation."

As Mr. Fithian said this Mr. Morse backed against the rails, and replied meekly: "What the gentleman says has the color of truth [laughter];" construction he placed on it is unqualifiedly false.

"If the gentleman denies my statement," yelled Mr. Fithian, shaking his fist angrily at the Massachusetts congressman, "he is willfully lying, himself."

In a minute the house was in an uproar, but the speaker quelled the impending trouble by pounding his desk vigorously with the gavel, and declaring both gentlemen out of order. This closed the incident.

After some routine business the debate on the elections bill was resumed, and General John C. Black of Illinois, ex-commissioner of pensions, took the floor in support of the bill. This was his maiden speech, and he received perfect attention.

"I will vote," he declared emphatically, "for any amount of money, and force it necessary, to uphold the dignity of our government, but these laws do neither." He then went into a detailed statement of the cost of these laws. Gradually, he said, the amount spent in Democratic states decreased and the amount in Republican and doubtful states increased.

H. U. Johnson, known as the "Firebrand of Indiana," next took the floor in opposition. "I want to stigmatize this bill as the climax of all that is audacious and vicious," said he. It is unblushingly selling all that is dear to the American heart. It is the unfortunate child of a wicked conspiracy; it is conceived in a spirit contrary to the principles of our government; it is a proposition to blot out all laws to protect the purity of the ballot, and is a cold-blooded proposition to repeal all laws making it a crime to tamper with the ballot. In a sarcastic way he paid his respects to the Democrats who aid the constitution in their "profound and gentlemanly" way.

McClure, Tucker and Jerry Simpson continued in for a share. "The real ground," continued the speaker, "of opposition to this bill is the fact that it is a proposition to blot out all laws to protect the purity of the ballot, and is a cold-blooded proposition to repeal all laws making it a crime to tamper with the ballot. In a sarcastic way he paid his respects to the Democrats who aid the constitution in their 'profound and gentlemanly' way."

JAMES D. DENT DISCHARGED BY COMMISSIONER WASS.

The Defendant Released at the suggestion of United States District Attorney Speed.

Text of Attorney General Little's Opinion as to the Political Status of Kansas Who Entered the Strip.

Those Who Have Declared Their Intention to Become Residents of the Territory Have Forfeited the Right to Vote in the Suffrage State—The Hutchinson and Southern to be Extended From Cameron to Pond Creek—The Ends.

ENDS, O. T. Sept. 28.—[Special.]—The trial of James D. Dent was concluded this morning before United States Commissioner Wass. Mr. Dent was charged with impersonating the chief deputy of the United States marshal, and with other grave offenses. The result of the trial and testimony offered shows that a gross injustice was committed by the arrest of Mr. Dent. The finding of the court is as follows:

"On this, the 28th day of September, 1893, this cause comes on for hearing before said court, the said United States appearing by Hon. Horace Speed, United States district attorney for said territory. The said defendant, James D. Dent, appears in person and by his attorneys, Nottlinger & Nagle and T. G. Cutlip, and waives arraignment and pleads not guilty. And the court, after hearing the testimony of witnesses and the argument of counsel, and upon recommendation of the United States district attorney, finds that the said defendant is not guilty of the violation of section 5,391, United States Revised Statutes, and it is ordered that he be discharged from custody."

KANSAS AND THE STRIP.
TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 28.—Attorney General Little, in a letter to C. L. McKesson, clerk of the district court of Howard county, yesterday decided that if a Kansas stripster intends to make his residence in Oklahoma he cannot return to Kansas to vote. This decision affects a large number of Kansas men now in the strip who expected to return to their former residences to vote in November. The attorney general's opinion is as follows:

"I have within the last few days received many files of inquiry from stripsters, and will try to embrace all such in this answer. I have examined the president's proclamation, and with few exceptions, the stripster who enters the territory is not entitled to vote in the territory. The president's proclamation is applicable to the lands to be homesteaded under this proclamation. While it is true that no person could enter into the territory without making a certain declaration as to do, yet this certificate operates as a mere license to homestead the land, and no one has the right to homestead the land until he has filed on the land in the first instance and then gains a residence in the territory and loses the same in the state, depending upon his intention to make the land so filed on his residence."

"If from the hour he files on the land or enters the same without filing he intends to make it his residence and to homestead the land, then his residence in the state is lost. From the hour of filing or entering the land his intention governs. If after filing or settling on the land he comes to this state and votes, at the same time intending to return to the strip after voting, such vote is fraudulent and void, and the voter subjects himself to a criminal prosecution. The supreme court of Kansas, in the case of the state of Kansas on the relation of H. O. Smith, county attorney, vs. John L. Denton, 46 Kan. 359, is clear and explicit, the syllabi of which is as follows:

"First—Election. Not a legal voter. A man who filed a homestead claim on land in Oklahoma territory, and who thereafter made improvements thereon, and after the month of June, 1891, and entitled to make said claim his home, and who returned to his former residence in Kansas for the purpose of voting at a general election in this state, for a temporary purpose, intending to go back to his claim in Oklahoma, was not a legal voter in an election held in Comanche county on the 5th day of November, 1891."

"Second—Not a legal voter. Persons who filed homestead claims in Oklahoma territory, and made settlements and improvements thereon, during and after the month of June, 1891, and who intended to make said homestead claims their home, and who returned to their former residences in Comanche county, in this state, for a temporary purpose, and agreed to stay and vote at an approaching election if paid for their time, who voted at said election, and left Comanche county the next day, and have ever since resided in Oklahoma, were not legal voters in an election held in Comanche county on the 5th day of November, 1891."

"In view of the fact that residence is a matter of intention, if a person who has located a claim in the strip or elsewhere intends to return and has intended to return after the election and complete the title to his land, he is not a legal voter and may be properly challenged at the polls."

A CRANK AT THE WHITE HOUSE.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Police Officer Helster had a violent struggle today with an insane man, who, in some mysterious manner, got into the White House and was looking for President Cleveland. The appearance of the officer probably saved the president from an assault. The man was not seen to enter the front or rear door. He appeared in the hall on the lower floor suddenly. The officer met him, and being cornered from his answers, he intended to assault the president, placed him under arrest.

At the station the man gave the name of Joseph Washington, but refused to tell where he came from. When asked to be wanted with the president, the crank said that he wanted the president's chair. He did not think that the former fitted it satisfactorily. "And I intend to get it by fair means, or foul. Give me a pistol, and I'll show you who'll get it. Quick!" He was held for examination.

THE ENDS.
NORTH END, O. T. Sept. 28.—[Special.]—B. W. Cummings, county attorney of county I, was arrested at Kingfisher last night on the charge of receiving money under false pretenses. It seems that Cummings was receiving money from people around Pond Creek, for land office filings, claiming that each evening he remitted the money to the receiver of the land office, thereby getting in the filer's march quicker than ordinarily. The people who had entrusted their money to him not receiving their filings, made an investigation, which resulted in Cummings' arrest. Cummings is a Kingfisher man and has hosts of friends. The amount of money he received in this way remains to be ascertained. Some place the amount at $15,000.

The soldiers stationed near Round Pond are making wholesale arrests of liquor men, who have not time for sleeping with the requirements of the internal revenue laws. The liquor men give bond for their appearance at the next term of the United States court, and keep on doing business. Much dissatisfaction is manifested at this mode of procedure, but it seems as if nothing else can be done.

POND CREEK POINTS.
POND CREEK, O. T. Sept. 28.—Contracts were closed today between the Rock Island Town company and the Hutchinson and Southern railway to extend that road from Cameron to Pond Creek, work to commence at once at Pond Creek. All material will be shipped to this point as once.

The saloon keepers who were arrested here yesterday were acquitted today. The Rock Island company is doing an immense business.

Building is going on in a rapid manner. All of the different town companies interested at this point are working in harmony for the success of Pond Creek.

THE JARVIS-CONKLIN FAILURE.
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 28.—Information received here from New York this evening that the Jarvis-Conklin Mortgage Trust company had been placed in the hands of receivers by a federal court in New York City, Samuel M. Jarvis and Roland Conklin being named as receivers. Neither the causes of the receivership nor a statement of the financial condition of the company is known by those in charge of the company's branch here. The last statement of the company showed assets and liabilities of $10,355,000 each, with a cash capital and surplus of $2,955,000. The company formerly had its headquarters in this city, but they were removed a year ago to New York, from which point the company is known by those in charge of its business as being in liquidation. It was backed by London capital and ranked high in the public mind as a conservative and sound concern.

Later—the complainants are Benjamin N. Fowler of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and J. M. Zachary of New York. The receivers gave bonds in $100,000 each. The company is indebted to various banks, individuals and corporations, upon demand and time loans, secured and unsecured, in sums aggregating $488,044, for which it has given promissory notes, some payable on demand and some (by their terms) about to mature and become payable. The company has issued debentures to the amount of $7,025,171, bearing 5 and 6 per cent interest. In November, 1888, to the New England Safe Deposit and Trust company of Missouri, the company made an indenture amounting to $1,091,312, having real estate to an amount somewhat exceeding 100 per cent of the aggregate of its debentures, to the sum of $2,320,000. In 1887, the company made similar indentures to the New England Safe Deposit company of Missouri, for $896,750, secured by real estate.

The defendant company states that because of the financial and commercial conditions now prevailing it is unable to provide for the payment, under its securities, of its obligations. It has large possessions in real estate and property in New York, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Washington, Ohio, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Utah and England.

CONWAY SPRINGS ITEMS.
CONWAY SPRINGS, Kan., Sept. 28.—This part of the county was visited with a fine rain last Saturday, which cut every thing. The pastures, which have been brown and dry from the extended dry weather, are now green.

W. S. Brown, proprietor of the Central hotel, is now able to be upon our streets once more. He had been sick and confined to his bed for about six weeks. As soon as he was able to be up he commenced making some valuable improvements about his hotel.

Rev. E. J. Brown was surprised last week by receiving a nice purse from our citizens. This purse was raised for the purpose of sending Mr. Brown to the world's fair. It was the gift of good citizens in and about Conway Springs. Immediately upon receiving the same he made preparations to start for Chicago. He is now enjoying the sights of the fair.

Rev. Mr. Blakemore, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, started last week for Chicago.

Professor S. D. Crane returned this week from the fair. He says that he has a fine claim in that glorious country.

N. J. Probst and wife, who have been in the city for the world's fair. They expect to visit Indiana and Michigan before their return.

The business men of our city have perfected an organization for the purpose of protecting the city against burglars and fire. From this organization three persons are detailed to watch the city every night.

Mr. A. H. Smith of Clay Center, Kan., has bought out the Bon Ton bakery, and now has full charge.

One by one the strippers are returning. All are more or less disappointed, as the country is not what they had such a glowing description of ten days ago. However, it is reported that several of our townsmen have procured good claims.

THE TEMPERANCE UNION.
JUSTICE CITY, Kan., Sept. 28.—The annual convention of the State Woman's Christian Temperance Union is now in session in this city. The convention is attended by 125 delegates and visitors, among them being many figures of national prominence. Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, the world's secretary and national and recording secretary, of Boston, is present. At the first morning session Miss Woodbridge's work was transacted. Mrs. A. M. Henderson of Mankato, Minn., spoke. In the afternoon Mrs. E. A. Thurston of Topeka spoke on organization, and Mrs. S. F. Grubbs of Lawrence spoke of her work among foreigners and miners. The address of welcome was given by the chairman, Mrs. Emma Miller of this city and responded to by Miss Kimball of Parsons. The president's annual address was delivered by Mrs. S. E. Grubbs. In the forenoon exercises Mrs. J. M. Kemp of Cherokee, Miss Lillie Hillard of Mound City, Dr. Harriet Messenger of Huxley, Miss Laura Johnson of Salina, and Mrs. A. F. St. John participated. The following are the officers elected: Mrs. L. B. Smith of Ottawa, president; Mrs. A. Thurston of Topeka, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. H. Harbough of Leavenworth, recording secretary; Mrs. M. F. Berry of Cawker, treasurer.

A BANK FRAUD.
STAMPAHL, Mo., Sept. 28.—J. H. Corbell, late cashier of the Corbell-Danays bank, which collapsed a year ago, was indicted by the grand jury today for receiving stolen property. He is a resident of Colorado and will be brought back for trial.

A SUSPECT IN CUSTODY.
BEEHAWNS CITY, Kan., Sept. 28.—Joe Chasidians, supposed to have been a member of the party of robbers which held up and robbed the Frisco train at Mount Valley recently, was arrested at Dexter today. The officers are confident that Chasidians is one of the robbers.
